

<http://nwsdy.li/1osG09F>

February 18, 2016

✕ Feed Me LIFESTYLE • RESTAURANTS

'Taste of Farmingdale': The Nutty Irishman, Croxley's and more set to participate in free tasting event

Chef Ed Davis of Croxley's Ale House in Farmingdale with a batch of his famous Korean barbecue wings. Photo Credit: Jessica Earnshaw

The third annual "Taste of Farmingdale," highlighting the village's restaurants and other businesses is slated for Feb. 25 at Village Hall. Admission is free.

Among the participants offering tastings will be Caracara Mexican Grill, The Nutty Irishman, Croxley's, Library Café, Gino's Pizza, Subway, and Stuff-a-Bagel.

Other local businesses taking part in the Village Winter Wonderland Expo event include The Chocolate Duck, The Divine Olive, Farmingdale Music Center, Bethpage Federal Credit Union, Priestley Chiropractic, Farmingdale Wellness, and Treasure Box, according to village mayor Ralph Ekstrand.

There will be free samples, tastings and raffles. Attendees are asked to bring nonperishable food donations for local pantries.

The "Taste" will take place at Village Hall, 361 Main St., from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. For additional information, visit farmingdalevillage.com